

CASA Meets Congress

June 12, 2012

Share the CASA Message with Our Nation's Leaders

Every four years, the CASA network has an opportunity to visit their elected officials on Capitol Hill. CASA Meets Congress will occur in conjunction with the 2012 Annual CASA Conference on June 12, 2012. Over 600 CASA and GAL volunteers, program staff, judges, child advocates and other supporters will share CASA's message with our national leaders.

2008 CASA Meets Congress Attendees

Delegates from almost every state will conduct over 200 meetings on Capitol Hill. It is a special opportunity to meet members of Congress and their legislative staff and acquaint them with the work of CASA programs on behalf of abused and neglected children. In the past, the CASA message was well received by the Congressional offices. Many delegates were able to meet with their Congressman in person and secure support for CASA's mission. In numerous Congressional offices staff members were already quite familiar with CASA because of their acquaintance with volunteers.

Individuals participating in CASA Meets Congress will attend a legislative briefing and orientation followed by state caucus meetings. Lunch and transportation to Capitol Hill are provided. Afternoon Congressional appointments are followed by a reception on Capitol Hill.

More information and registration will be available in late 2011 at CASAforChildren.org/conference.
